Darkness won the day for the Nuggets at the Fairgrounds Thursday evening in the seventh game of the Avant-Nuggets series. The Nuggets who had niled up a big score and were fast slipping in the final round when Umpire Humphreys called the game on account of darkness and the final score was 19 to 14. Going into the last half of the ninth the Avants were trailing the Nuggets be seven runs but successive hits drow, across two runs and had filled the bases with ne one out. Big Chief Madden who had pitched great ball and had been given good support was weakening and the sudden terminating of the game by Umpire Humphreys put a stop to by Unipire Humphreys put a stop to what would have been a winning rally. There was no little argument as to the right of Umpire Humphreys to cal the right of Umpire Humphreys to call a game at such a critical time but the rule book backed him up in his decision. It was a severe shock to the Ayan's when the game was called, and it was certainly a relief to madden. Calido Pendleton, local authority on baseball, who eventually settled the argument, was so certain of his ground that he offered H100 to anyone who could prove he was wern. If anyone ever entered heart was wrong if anyone ever entered heart and soul into a game it is Penny, and he sure does put life into the game, fighting every inch of the way.
